Lead Ammunition Group Report and Risk Assessments

Thank you for your helpful and constructive reply dated 30 June.

I have passed your welcome appreciation to colleagues and I have little doubt they will look forward to hearing the fruits of the Government's reflections in due course.

Our website has now been brought fully up to date and can be accessed via www.leadammunitiongroup.org.uk (and similar domain names). It provides an accurate and informative introduction and background in anticipation of the inclusion of our report and the Government's responses.

The Group will be happy to remain in place and ready to help should further information or clarification of any points be required.

Thank you once again,

John Swift
